SEEN AND HEARD BY GEORGE MINER

Special Correspondent of The Washington Herald.

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

New York, Feb. 2.—How much does it cost to travel around the United States—that is, to travel comfortably and well and enjoy all the usual luxuries that go with modern railway service and up-to-date hotels? It is a question very much discussed in New York just now and all because the State has been asked to pay a lump bill of something more than $20,000 for the expenses of Gov. Whitman and his party to the San Francisco Exposition last summer. There were forty people in the party and they traveled on a special train consisting of five comfortable sleepers, a dining car and so forth.

To many people this seems like a very extravagant expenditure. Others assert that it is no more per capita than traveling men who have a liberal expense account spend in the ordinary course in their business trips.

Same Price for All.

Now there are just two fixed items in traveling expenses. One is the railroad fare and the other the Pullman fee for either a berth, stateroom or seat in a parlor car. They are just the same for the millionaire as for the most impecunious drummer. Leaving those items out of the question, as they vary only according to the length of the journey, the only sum in dispute is the amount paid for food, drinks and tips.

As to food, a person can only eat about so much, no matter how big a hog he is, and the limit of a railroad dining car does not permit of any very remarkable extravagance in that direction. When it comes to drinks and tips it is another matter. There is almost no limit. A fool and his money are soon parted, and there are lots of people who act like fools on railway trains under the delusion that it makes them important in the eyes of their fellow-travelers.

It doesn't. It only makes them the object of sarcastic remarks and the prey of colored porters.

Still there is a wide latitude in the ideas of common-sense traveling men as to what is essential to comfort and as to how large gratuities should be to maintain one's self-respect. Personally, I think it is generally overdone and that the average American is inclined to give larger tips than are called for. The mean and stingy man is, of course, just as objectionable as the vulgar fellow who tries to show off by throwing his money away.

I asked a well-known traveling man who "makes the coast" two of them.

STOP DANDRUFF!
HAIR GETS THICK,
WAVY, BEAUTIFUL

Girls! Draw a Cloth Through Your Hair and Double Its Beauty.

Spend 25 Cents! Dandruff Vanishes and Hair Stops Coming Out.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair: soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is a matter of using a little Danderine. It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness, and an incomparable gloss and luster, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits every one who tries this—Adv.

TWO BRYAN TREATIES GIVEN COMMITTEE'S O. K.

Pacts with Colombia and Panama Ordered Reported Favorably to the Senate.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee ordered a favorable report to the Senate today on the treaty with Colombia, a "hang-over" from the last Congress. Eight Democrats voted for the report and the six Republicans present and one Democrat, Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, voted against a report.

It was amended, cutting the proposed indemnity from $25,000,000 to $15,000,000, and changing the "apology" of the United States, which the original Bryan treaty proposed, to an expression of mutual regret. It is believed that the debate will be in open Senate and that there will be some interesting disclosures concerning the "lobbying" influences said to be behind the treaty.

It is believed that the Colombian treaty, after an exciting debate, will fall of ratification.

One feature frequently referred to today was the failure to accord a hearing to Col. Roosevelt. In the last Congress he expressed a willingness to come before the committee and was assured that he would be given an opportunity.

The treaty with Nicaragua, submitted to the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations in the last Congress by the then Secretary of State, Mr. Bryan, also was ordered reported favorably today by a vote of ten to three. Senator Smith, of Michigan, and Senator Borah, of Idaho, Republicans, and Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, voted against a favorable report.

This treaty was favorably reported to the last Congress, but no action was taken. The treaty is considerably modified. As reported it obligates the United States to pay to Nicaragua $3,000,000 for inter-oceanic canal rights, a naval base, and other important concessions.

"CLEAN-UP, PAINT-UP" WEEK BEING PLANNED

Master Painters and Decorators Discuss Preparations for Their Campaign to End in April.

Advance plans for the annual "clean-up, paint-up" campaign of the Master Painters and Decorators' Association were discussed at a meeting of the organization on Tuesday night at the Hotel Hamilton. The campaign will be held in April.

A. H. McGinnis, chairman of the "clean-up" committee, reported receipt of contributions from these: Hugh Reilly Company, E. J. Murphy Company, W. H. Butler Company, Dyer Brothers, Woodward & Lothrop, McGinnis Scrolling Company, S. Kann Sons & Co., George F. Smith & Co., S. K. & Co., Barber & Ross, Edward & Watkins, W. J. Callahan, George E. Russell, Thomas W. Smith, S. P. Harbin, M. F. Nicholson, National Electric Supply Company, W. A. Furst, J. W. Lacey, August A. Weber, L. Barr, H. C. Herber, H. E. Ames, J. E. Campbell, A. C. Neubeck, F. P. May, Pennington & Taylor, George E. Corbett, Charles Macnicol, Moor & Wood, Craven & Co., and James Linsley's Sons.

W. F. Andrews, Charles Macnicol, A. H. McGinnis, and George E. Russell were elected delegates to the annual convention of the International Association of Master Painters and Decorators, to be held in Cincinnati, February 15-19.

DEAN VERNON WILL PREACH.

East Washington Episcopalians Plan United Mission Services.

Rectors of the Episcopal churches in East Washington are co-operating to make the preaching mission to be held in the churches of the denomination in the diocese of Washington from March 12 to 22 a great success.

Members of the congregations of Trinity Church, St. Agnes' Chapel, Church of the Good Shepherd, Christ Church, Chapel of the Nativity, St. Matthew's Chapel, and All Saints' Chapel, Easton, will visit every home in the parish, beginning about a week before the opening of the mission, and leave printed invitations to the special services in connection with the mission to be held at St. Mark's Church, Third and A streets, southeast, of which Rev. C. R. Peterson is rector.

The missioner at this church will be Very Rev. Frank L. Vernon, dean of the Cathedral at Portland, Me.

In addition, the ministers in charge of these churches announce that their Sunday evening services will be omitted on the dates for the preaching mission and will urge the members of their congregations to attend the services at St. Mark's.

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

By GENE BYRNES

At the Theaters Next Week

National—"The Masked Model."

Another musical production will have its metropolitan debut Monday night when "The Masked Model" is presented at the National Theatre. The comic opera, with book and lyrics by Harry B. and Robert B. Smith and music by Carl Woessas, is a comprehensive story with humorous situations.

Each member of the cast has been personally selected by Manager Maynard Waite. The artists include Frank Doane, John E. Young, Thomas Conkey, Donald MacDonald, Arthur Stanford, Eugene Revere, Katherine Galloway, Texas Guinan, Mary Robson, Ethel Du Pre Houston, Eva Condon and Lillian Charles.

The new production will come to Washington after a week's performance which started at Atlantic City on Monday evening.

Ruth St. Denis Matinee.

Owing to her brilliant success at the Hudson and Candler theaters, New York, Ruth St. Denis, the famous dance artist, who was booked for a series of special matinees in Washington, postponed her engagement and to shorten it to one special matinee performance which has now been arranged for the afternoon of Monday, February 7, at Poll's Theater.

Miss St. Denis will be assisted by Ted Shawn and a notable company of solo dancers and Greekian ensemble of beautiful girls from her Los Angeles school of dancing.

The program arranged for Washington will be selected from her repertoire of oriental, classic, and modern dance plays and diversifications some of the special numbers that she will feature are "The Peacock," "The Ballet Egyptianne," "The Spirit of the Sea," "Danse Javanese," "Omika," a picturesque dance of Japan; "The South Sea Island Dances," "The St. Denis Masourka," a modern dance novel of Miss St. Denis' creation, and her beautiful Oriental dance of "The Five Senses."

Belasco—"A World of Pleasure."

The Winter Garden's latest extravaganza, entitled "A World of Pleasure," with a company of stars, and a typical Winter Garden chorus, will be the attraction at the Belasco Theater next week. There will be matinees Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday. The cast includes Clifton Crawford, Clare Rochester, Franklin Ardell, Conroy & LeMaire, Collins and Hart, Franklin Batic, McMahon, Diamond and Chaplow, Genta Fitzhugh, Dan Healy, Rosie Quinn, Emily Mills, Helen Goff and 100 others.

"A World of Pleasure" many happy mediums are said to have been met with from a scenic standpoint and the balancing of the cast. Comedy, as far as the cast is concerned is always the thing that counts. Not to overlook the poetic side of the play the management has included the finest of the Japanese Rose Ballet, which introduces perhaps the youngest, daintiest and most charming dancer who ever trod the boards of the Winter Garden. She is Rosie Quinn, aged 17, blonde, smiling, and petite.

Poll's—"The House of a Thousand Candles."

Meredith Nicholson's best seller, "The House of a Thousand Candles," made into a four-act play by George V. Hobart, will be the offering of the Poll Players next week. This is a drama of mystery, centering around an eccentric old man who decides to leave his fortune to his grandson, but who wishes first to determine the fitness of the young man to inherit his wealth. Therefore, he pretends to be dead so that he can observe, without interference, all that takes place.

One of the provisions of the old man's will is that the young Glenard, his grandson, shall marry a certain girl within twelve months. In his suit for the girl's hand he is opposed by the lawyer who has been appointed executor of the will. This lawyer knows that if he can prevent the marriage of the girl to Glenard, he can break the will and inherit part of the fortune himself.

A. H. Van Buren will be seen in the role of young Glenard, and Florence Rittenhouse will enact the girl in the case, while Howard Lang in the role of Bates, the butler, is expected to give an effective portrayal.

Kelth's—"Mrs. Langtry."

Mrs. Langtry will be the leading attraction at Kelth's next week. She will represent her home in the "Ashes," a London society comedy, by the author of "As in a Looking Glass." She is supported by her English company headed by Lionel Lincoln, a popular Stark and Mille, Gilman, Julian Rose, creator of the first "Abe Potash" part, in "What Happened at the Wedding," Ruby Norton and Sammy Lee, in a musical blend; Frank Thompson, son of Dea Thompson, offering the celebrated "Old Homestead" double quartet; the Lucy Maykows; Daniels and Conrad, Four Gilets, the Mosini Brothers. The organ recitals and the Pae pictorial are other inclusions of next week's bill.

Sunday the bill will present Elsie Janis, Ralph Dunbar's Maryland Singers, Will Morrissey and Dolly Hackett, Claude and Pannie Usher, Raymond and Caverly, Corcoran and Dingle, Ralph Lohse and Mona Sterling, Herbert's leap-for-life dogs, and other features.

Philharmonic Concert Today.

Harold Bauer, pianist, will be the soloist today at 4:30 o'clock at the National Theatre. The occasion is the second subscription concert of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra with Joseph Stransky conducting. Mr. Bauer is to play Schumann's concerto in A minor, Op. 10, No. 3, and the orchestra accompanying. The orchestral program arranged by Mr. Stransky includes the Dvorak Symphony, No. 4, in G major, the Tchaikovsky Overture, "Romeo and Juliet," and Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody, No. 2.

Mr. Bauer's European successes have made him one of the most talked-of artists of the present season. It is doubtful if any other artist holds a vogue in as many different lands as this youthful pianist who comes to America this season for his seventh tour.

Yvette Guilbert Tomorrow.

Yvette Guilbert will give another of her song programs at the Belasco Theater tomorrow afternoon. This time the program will be under the general heading of "Ten Types of Women." These ten types go back to the Middle Ages, and the women of that day Mme. Guilbert depicts in two impersonations, The Inconceivable Woman, and the Coquette.

From this Mme. Guilbert jumps to the puff and powder period and gives The Hypocrite, The Forsaken, the Audacious and The Cunning Woman, the Audacious Woman, and the types of the criminal day which are sung in interesting gowns reproduced by the artist from prints of the day of 1830.

Coming right down to modern times, Mme. Guilbert will sing two songs of tragic import, The Fatal Woman, and in Notre Petite Compagnie, she sings of just "Woman."

Philadelphia Orchestra Next Tuesday

The fourth of the Philadelphia Orchestra series with Leopold Stokowski, conductor, will be given at the National next Tuesday. The soloists offered for this occasion will be Florence Hinkle, soprano. Miss Hinkle has appeared with all the great symphony orchestras and the great musical festivals throughout the country. Possessing a voice of limpid beauty and a very keen artistic conception, the Mozart and Beethoven which she will sing are particularly adapted to her voice and style.

Louise Homer Recital.

On Friday afternoon, February 11, at the New National Theater, T. Arthur Smith will present as the attraction for the "Concert Series" America's foremost contralto, Louise Homer.

American born and bred, Mme. Homer has won a place in the front ranks of the great singers of today. For several seasons past she has been one of the stars of the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company and is a concert artist par excellence.

Gaiety—Burlesque.

At the Gaiety Theater next week Joe Hurlitz's Social Maids will appear. The show is new this season and is said to have elaborate scenery, costumes, and electrical effects. "The Little Cupid" is the title of the burlesque. The book is by Leon Berg and the music by Will H. Vodrey.

In the principal roles are George Stokely and Edna Howard, in support of these stars are Billy Baker, Billy Foster, Jack Pillard, Marty Seamon, Jesse Hatt and the Jewel Sisters. A chorus of thirty Broadway dancing and singing show girls assist the principals.

Casino—"Under Two Flags."

Paul M. Potter's dramatization of Ouida's story, "Under Two Flags," has been chosen as next week's production at the Casino Theater, which is the first of the big favorites of some years ago and depicts the romance of Cigarette, the little French vivandiere, who gave her life for Bertie Cecil, an Englishman, who was wounded in the French colors in Algeria. Jane Ware will be seen as Cigarette, a role in which she has won the admiration of the audience.

Also in the cast is Bertie Cecil, a part which offers the opportunities for the leading man. Manager Falkner promises an attractive production.

Cosmos—Vaudeville.

The new bill for the last half of the week at the Cosmos Theater will be headed by "The Nymphs of the Fountain," the water spectacle which has been making a hit during the early days of the week. Silbers and North, in their amusing sketch "The Bashful Boob," also have been retained.

The new bill of the bill will include Pierce and Mazie, costume singers and dancers; Florette, the physical culture girl; and Burke and Walsh, combination of dancers and comedians, with another act which is to be announced in the program.

The Pathe Weekly will head the new pictures, and the photoproduction, "The Daughter of the City," featuring Margaret Clayton and E. H. Calverly, will be shown three times daily. Next week's attractions include the Four Bards, Edgar Atherton and company; Norris' baboons, and others.

Loew's Columbia—Paramount Pictures.

Anna Held's long heralded motion picture debut becomes an actuality in "Madame President," in which the star will be seen on the screen of Loew's Columbia Theater the first four days of the week, beginning on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

"Madame President," which was one of the most successful stage vehicles of the famous artist's career, and the adventures of Mlle. Gobbette, an actress who, having been ejected from one of the hotels of the town, presents herself at the home of the magistrate, who is responsible for her homeless plight, and before he knows it she is to be in the room of his absent wife and daughter, complications follow in rapid succession. The last three days of the week when Barrymore will be seen in his latest screen characterization, "Nearly a King."

Strand—"The Battle Cry of Peace."

"The Battle Cry of Peace" returns to the Strand next week. It is a story of the agitation of the necessity of preparedness for this country this great film spectacle is exceedingly timely. It pictures everything one has read in connection with the actual fighting of the war. Uncle Sam, and shows exactly the resources of our army and navy. The cast includes such notable men as Admiral Dewey, Secretary of the Navy, Theodore Roosevelt, Dr. Lyman Abbot, Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, Admiral Togo, and such screen stars as Charles Richmond, Norma Talmage, L. Rogers Lytton, Louise Beaudet, Harold Hubert, Evert Overton, Mary Maurice, Capt. Jack Crawford, Joseph Kilgour, Ted Johnson, William Fehrsen, Frank Holland, William Humphrey, and others.

Garden—"The Ransom."

Julia Dean, will be seen on the screen at Moore's Garden Theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, where she heads the double feature program in "The Ransom." It is an adaptation of one of

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

S. J. Briggs & Co., of Providence, R. I., say: "We have sold Fletcher's Castoria in our three stores for the past twenty years and consider it one of the best preparations on the market."

Mansur Drug Co., of St. Paul, Minn., says: "We are not in the habit of recommending proprietary medicines, but we never hesitate to say a good word for Castoria. It is a medical success."

Hegeman & Co., of New York City, N. Y., say: "We can say for your Castoria that it is one of the best selling preparations in our stores. That is conclusive evidence that it is satisfactory to the users."

W. H. Chapman, of Montreal, Que., says: "I have sold Fletcher's Castoria for many years and have yet to hear of one word other than praise of its virtues. I look upon your preparation as one of the few so called patent medicines having merit and unhesitatingly recommend it as a safe household remedy."

Eclipse to Partly Darken Sun Today Even If Better Weather Lets Him Smile

There will be a partial eclipse of the sun visible in Washington this morning from 10:11 to 12:23 o'clock. The Naval Observatory estimates that approximately four-tenths of "King Sol" will be covered. Partial eclipses are seen frequently, but total eclipses are rare. A total eclipse, which temporarily transforms night, is expected by astronomers to visit the United States in 1918.

The partial eclipse this morning will be photographed from the Naval Observatory on Georgetown Heights to determine the relative positions of the sun at the time of contact, and to correct the tables of their motion.

The eclipse will not influence weather conditions. Officials at the observatory warn amateur observers to use brown or "smoked" glasses. Those who train telescopes on the sun this morning should use suitable solar eyepieces. The heat of the sun concentrated by the object glass of a telescope is unbearable by the eye, officials at the observatory say.

Arcotomys Monax, otherwise known as "Old Ground Hog," couldn't even induce the moon to cast his shadow when he crept out of his hole yesterday. He waited all day in vain for "King Sol" to throw his shadow on the slippy streets. Hence, miserable weather, that brought forth rubbers and raincoats yesterday, will not prevail for forty days, as threatened by the gods of superstition.

$16,000 USED FOR ORPHANS.

171 Waifs Cared for in City Asylum During Past Year.

Approximately $16,000 was used during 1915 for the maintenance of the Washington City Orphan Asylum, according to the report of the treasurer, Mrs. S. W. Woodard, at the annual meeting of the board of directors, held Tuesday afternoon at the institution, 1738 Fourteenth street northwest.

Mrs. L. M. Saunders, the secretary, reported that 171 children were cared for during the year, and that the enrollment on January 1, 1916, was 130. Mrs. Z. T. Sowers presided. Rev. Earle Wilkey, pastor of Vermont Avenue Christian Church, gave a talk on "Preparation for the Future."

"CASCARETS" FOR COLDS; HEADACHES

They Gently Clean the Liver and Bowels, and Stop Headache, Colds, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath.

Enjoy Life! Take Cascarets and Wake Up Feeling Fit and Fine—Best Laxative for Men, Women, Children—Harmless—Never Gripe.

Cascarets are a treat! They live your liver, clean your thirty feet of bowels and sweeten your stomach. You eat one or two Cascarets like candy before going to bed and in the morning your head is clear, tongue is clean, stomach sweet, breath right, cold gone and you feel grand.

This is the first year that Mr. Morton has been featured as headliner, and it looks as if there is a permanent place in burlesque fame for an Irish comedian.

Sued for Billion: to "Pen."

Perth, Maine, Feb. 2.—Lewis J. Marshall, who recently sued the British ambassador and others for a billion dollars was today sentenced to serve two years in the Federal prison at Atlanta by Federal Judge Hale on a charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud.
